MALE SERVANTS DUTY.
Excise Office, Edinburgh, June 1784.
THE COMMISSIONERS OF EXCISE, desirous of cautioning all persons against inadvertently incurring the penalties inflicted by an act passed in the twenty-first year of the reign of his present Majesty, for the better collecting of the duty on male-servants, do hereby give public notice, That they, the said Commissioners, will be under the necessity of receiving informations, and commencing prosecutions, against such Masters and Mistresses as have not, within twenty days after the 21st of May last past, or the termination of their last entry, delivered in fresh lists, and made payment of the duty on their Male-Servants, for the current year; which list must be delivered in, and duty paid, either at the Chief Office of Excise in Edinburgh, or at the Excise Office nearest to the place of residence of the persons liable to the payment of such duties.

And whereas, notwithstanding several former repeated advertisements, the Commissioners of Excise have reason to believe, that many persons throughout Scotland have not yet delivered in list of, and paid duty for all the Male Servants retained and employed by them, on or since the 21st May 1781, whereby they have respectively incurred the penalties of DOUBLE DUTY and TWENTY POUNDS.

And whereas it has also been notified to the Commissioners, that many persons residing in the country have neglected, or refused to deliver in duplicates of their lists of Male Servants, as required by law; it is hereby intimated, that none may plead ignorance, That within a month after the delivery of such lists, and payment of the said duties respectively, every person is required to deliver, or cause to be delivered, at the office of Excise next to the house, or place of his or her occasional residence, a duplicate or duplicates of every such list or lists so delivered by such Master or Mistresses; such duplicate to be signed by him or her, and mentioning at the foot thereof, the place where such original list or lists shall have been delivered, and the duties paid; upon pain that every Master or Mistress neglecting to deliver such duplicate, shall, for every such offence, forfeit the sum of TWENTY POUNDS.

THE COMMISSIONERS OF EXCISE do therefore give notice to all concerned, That unless such lists and duplicates are forthwith delivered in, and the duty paid, the Board must, in justice to this branch of the public revenue under their management, direct prosecutions to be immediately carried on against every Master or Mistress who shall be found not to have paid due obedience to the several regulations in the aforesaid act of Parliament.

By order of the Commissioners,
JOHN THOMSON, Secretary.

From the LONDON GAZETTE, June 26.

Constantinople, May 25.

THE Grand Signior has just issued an imperial edict, by which the British merchants are exempted for the future from the Masaria duty on all goods imported from their country to Constantinople, and on such unprohibited merchandizes as they export from Constantinople to their own country, after paying the other customs prescribed by the imperial regulations.

The plague prevails in many parts of this city, particularly in the quarters of the arsenal and harbour, though its progress is happily retarded by the coldness of the weather, and the northerly winds. The accounts from the islands are very alarming. At Smyrna the infection has increased considerably, and has again manifested itself at Kerson.

Venice, June 5. The plague still rages in Dalmatia, particularly at Spalatro, which city, consisting lately of about four thousand inhabitants, is already nearly depopulated. The suburbs, however, are yet free from the contagion, nor has it hitherto extended itself further in the neighbouring island of Brazza.

INTELLIGENCE FROM LLOYD'S, June 25.

Portsmouth, 22. Arrived the Clazina Catharina, Vell, and the Vrede Hoff, Boilebackker, from Alicant, in a leaky condition, having been on the Arze, off Chichester harbour, in thick weather, four days.

The Heart of Oak, Carr, from Newcastle to Riga, is lost on Dismeth Reef; the people saved.

Liverpool, 21. The Joseph, Taylor, from Angola, in coming in to our river, got on shore on Burbo Bank, and filled with water; the cargo of wood may possibly be saved, but it is feared the ship will be lost.

The ship, which was bound to Copenhagen, arrived at Bristol with damage, having mistaken the Channel in thick weather.

Captain Trenham, of the Neptune, arrived in the Downs from Jamaica, in lat. 28. 50. long. 47. 50. spoke the Adventure, Lowrey, from ditto, all well.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

FRIDAY, June 25.

AGREED to the report of part of the amendments made to Sir Ashton Lever's bill. To proceed on Monday.

Discharged the order for hearing no more election petitions, and appointed all to be heard in their course up to the 30th of August.

Ordered the Glasgow soap bill to be engrossed.

Previous to the Speaker leaving the chair on the India bill, Mr Eden rose to object to it. He could by no means, he said, admit its expediency. He thought there was nothing in the situation of the Company, or in the acts of Parliament, to render it necessary. He reverted to the ground on which he had opposed it the preceding evening, and asserted that the demands of the Company, and the terms of the bill, were extravagant in the present reduced state of the Company's finances. He saw no reason likewise for bringing forward a bill of such a nature at the present crisis, more especially as the whole affairs of the Company were shortly to be submitted to public examination.

The Speaker having now left the chair, and the House resolved itself into a Committee, (Mr Gilbert chairman) the Chancellor of the Exchequer, in reply to what had fallen from the Right Hon. member, begged leave to observe, that the state of the Company was such as to render the present bill expedient, if not absolutely necessary. It had hitherto been the custom of the Company to declare their dividend on Midsummer Day. Every one knew the danger of tampering with the mode of all societies of trade. The public laid their account with their being punctually observed, and should they be deviated from in this, or any other instance, it would be difficult to say what might be the consequence. He thought the present bill, therefore, came recommended by every circumstance of commercial expediency.

No further debate ensuing, the bill was reported, read a third time, and ordered to be carried up to the other House.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer then observed, that as the House was now pretty full, he should embrace the opportunity of intimating his intention of bringing forward, on Wednesday next, what he had to propose on the subject of finance for this year.

Lord Beauchamp remarked, that the reduction of the army, which he found was adopted, in his opinion bore extremely hard on officers who had accepted of commissions under a promise that they should not be reduced. He appealed to the compassion of the House on this occasion, and hoped their hard case would merit the attention of Ministers. Every generous act originated with his Majesty with peculiar propriety. He trusted, therefore, this matter was already under consideration; and in that conviction he would rest satisfied.

The Secretary at War agreed with the Hon. Gentleman, that the case of the officers was hard, and said, he doubted not but his Majesty would pay every attention to it that could be expected.

General Burgoyne said, that on his first hearing that such a reduction was deemed necessary, he had laid the matter before the House, and then understood that both sides had agreed to the observations he made.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer owned, that the circumstances alluded to by the conversation which had been started, were undoubtedly objects worthy attention. But public regulations, in various cases, often bore hard on individuals, and however natural it was to feel for them in that situation, no man would assert that general advantages should be laid aside merely on that account. To continue all commissioned officers on full pay during a peace establishment, and while their respective regiments were discharged, would be to forego all the benefit which might otherwise result from such a regulation. No one was more disposed to respect the merit of long service, but the first duty he owed was to the country at large; and it became the House to consider what could most readily be done consistent with that economy so abundantly more necessary now than ever; yet, notwithstanding what had been said, he apprehended nothing could be done but in consequence of an order from the House.—Adjourned to Monday.

From the London Papers, June 26.

Paris, June 17. It was yesterday universally reported here, that General Washington had been proclaimed Dictator at Philadelphia, in his absence; the Americans wishing to re-unite under him, as in one single point, all the other channels of authority.—Brussels Gazette.

Utrecht, June 22. Our differences with the Emperor become every day more and more serious. On the 11th of this month, the Baron de Reischack, Envoy Extraordinary to the Emperor, presented to their High Mightinesses a memorial from the Governor General of the Austrian Netherlands, in which it is declared, that since our republic has sent such a number of troops towards the frontiers, the Emperor must consider every attempt on the rights of his territories as a hostility.

LONDON.

Lord Mansfield, it is agreed, will resign, and the following is handed about as the new arrangement:

The Master of the Rolls; Chief Justice of the King's Bench; Pepper Arden, Master of the Rolls; Mr Bearcroft and Mr Scott, Attorney and Solicitor General; and Mr McDonald, the present Solicitor-General, Chief Justice of Chester.

Yesterday, the Duke of Gordon had the honour to kiss the King's hand as Earl of Norwich, and Baron of Castle-Rising. His Majesty has been most graciously pleased to revive those ancient honours in his Grace's person, they having become extinct upon the death of Edward late Duke of Norfolk. The Duke of Gordon is the lineal descendant of Henry Howard, Baron Howard of Castle-Rising, Earl of Norwich, and sixth Duke of Norfolk, who married Lady Ann Somerset, eldest daughter of Edward Marquis of Worcester, and whose daughter, Lady Elizabeth Howard, was married to George Duke of Gordon, great-grandfather to the present Duke.

The celebrated Dr Benjamin Franklin was on 'Change yesterday, and looks remarkably well for one of the age of 85. He appeared to be in high spirits.

Counsel were called to the bar of the House of Peers yesterday, and further heard on the appeal of Duncan against the Magistrates of Aberdeen; and after the second counsel for the respondents had finished his argument, the further consideration was put off till Monday next. The Lord Chancellor recommended an act of Parliament, having the precise rates of tonnage-duty to be paid in future.

The Bank of Scotland bill, for increasing their capital stock from two to three hundred thousand pounds, which stood for a third reading in the House of Lords yesterday, is postponed sine die. It is said, some of the law Lords entertain doubts of the propriety of this bill, and think it a job to serve the large proprietors. The business, therefore, will, in all probability, be fully investigated, and the reasons required for augmenting the capital, and why the clause in a former act for limiting the number of shares to be held by each proprietor, is now demanded to be repealed.

Extract of a letter from Utrecht, June 6.

"The assembly of this province have given fresh instructions to its deputies in the States General, to give their utmost assistance to procure an answer to the last memorial of his Prussian Majesty, concerning the affair of the Stadtholder; the time fixed being nearly elapsed, and the most disagreeable consequences are to be apprehended, if it should be permitted to expire without a determination.

"The Prussians are already preparing a camp to be stationed on the border of the Duchy of Cleves; the particular occasion and circumstances are not declared; but it is easy to guess the meaning. However, it is hoped prudence may still avert the numerous storms that seem to be gathering."

Extract of a letter from L'Orient, June 2.

WIND AT DEAL, JUNE 25. W. S. W.

EDINBURGH.

Extract of a letter from London, June 26.

"The election of a member of Parliament for Southwark, in the room of Sir Barnard Turner, was considered by many as a new test of the political sentiments of the people; for the constitution of Southwark, which is of large extent and populous, throws a great deal of power into the hands of the citizens at large. But it does not appear that the election of one of the candidates, rather than another, was considered as a public cause. It was determined, as in most cases, by private interests and connections. The difference of eleven, in favour of Mesurier, was trifling. Sir Richard Hotham has demanded a scrutiny. It is very preposterous, as the Lord Advocate observed, that scrutinies should follow, instead of preceding elections. It is also remarkable, that, in most elections, number of electors should be so equally divided between the contending parties. This generally happens where the minds of the people are not strongly agitated by some particular object. The candidates generally compare their own merits and connections with those of their rivals, and where there is nearly an equality in these, there is also nearly an equality in the result of the election.

"The venerable Lord Mansfield, to the joy of those who have somewhat recovered his health and spirits, and still resides in the Court of King's Bench, with his usual dispatch and ability. It is thought that he will resign his office, however, if the person the most likely to succeed him possesses esteem, or were an object of his affection; for the good Lord Mansfield, it is universally said and believed, being from susceptible of friendship and attachment, is addicted to friendship, and sometimes too, like other great men, governed by personal dislikes. Mr Lloyd K — n, a man of honest parts, but like many other Welchmen, of a hot and irascible temper, is not in favour with the Chief Justice of England. His Lordship, it is reported, has frequently said, that of those who sit with him on the Bench, he thinks Judge Buller is most fitted to succeed him.

"We begin now to look forward to the budget, which will be opened on Wednesday. All that I have yet been able to learn with certainty, on this subject, is, that the sum to be borrowed is six millions; and that, according to Dr Price's plan, it is to be borrowed, not on four, but five per cent. annuities, redeemable within a certain limited period of time. Five per cent. is to be given, under this condition, for every five pounds sterling.

"The print shops continue to be decorated with a thousand caricatures of Charles Fox. Among other fancies, he is represented in the highland garb, riding on a Shetland pony, on a visit to his new constituents. This is the outline, and is filled up with many suitable and ludicrous circumstances."

Yesterday, the Hon. Alexander Gordon presented to the Court of Session his Majesty's letter, appointing him one of their number; after which Mr Gordon went upon his parliamentary trials; and, it is thought, will take his seat upon the bench to-morrow, under the title of Lord Rockwell.

The trial of James Herdman, merchant in Greenock, before the High Court of Admiralty, (mentioned in our last,) continued till six o'clock yesterday morning, when the Jury adjourned, and did not rise till near eight. They were charged, in a very masterly manner, on the part of the prosecutors, by Mr Solicitor General Dundas, and for the pannel by Mr Robert Macintosh. This day, at twelve, the Jury returned their verdict, all in one voice finding the pannel guilty of the crime libelled, with regard to the sloop Peggy; the Solicitor General, on account of the great length of the trial, having declined examining any witnesses as to the New York, likewise libelled upon. After the verdict was recorded, the Judge Admiral pronounced a similar sentence with that against M'Callum and M'Innes, inserted in our paper of Wednesday the 16th instant. It is therefore unnecessary here to repeat it, further than to mention this difference in point of time, that Herdman is to be detained in the prison of Edinburgh till Thursday the 15th of July next, then to be transmitted to Glasgow, where he is to stand on the pillory on Wednesday the 11th of August, and to banish himself from Scotland the 31st of that month, under the same certifications as in the former sentence.—The Judge Admiral, after sentence was pronounced, delivered a very animated and well-digested speech, in which, after thanking the Jury, in name of the Court and of their country, for the verdict they had returned, and the great fatigue and trouble they had endured during the course of so long a trial, anivadverted, in very forcible terms, on the heinousness of the crime which the pannel and his associates had committed.—Counsel for the prosecutors, Mr Solicitor General, Mr Alexander Abercrombie, Mr Charles Hay, and Mr Archibald Campbell; Procurator and Agent, Mr Charles Livingstone.—Counsel for the pannel, Mr Robert Macintosh, Mr Alexander Wight, and Mr John MacLaurin; Procurator, Mr William Sprout; Agent, Mr Bayne Whyte.

This day, the High Court of Justiciary had under their consideration, the import of the verdict returned by a jury in the case of Leyprick, tried for sheep-stealing at Dumfries, last circuit. The jury, it seems, had found Leyprick guilty of stealing sixteen of the sheep libelled on, but not of stealing the sheep. The Lord upon the circuit, on account of this speciality, referred the whole matter to the High Court of Justiciary, who this day sentenced Leyprick to be carried back to Dumfries, there to be publicly whipped, and afterwards banished for life.

This day, there were laid before the Presbytery of Edinburgh, the calls, formerly mentioned, by the General Sessions, in favour of Messrs Hardy and Greenfield, to be ministers of this city, in room of Dr Dick and Mr Walker. The Presbytery sustained the calls, and appointed commissioners to prosecute the settlements at the first meeting of Kirkcaldy Presbytery, within whose bounds both these gentlemen are at present settled.

There was likewise presented to the Presbytery, a petition from the New Kirk Session, craving that Mr Hardie might be appointed to supply the vacancy in that Church, occasioned by the death of Mr Walker. Against this petition, it was objected, that as, since the resolution came to, of making the College Church a single charge, it was agreed, the minister officiating there should have the first vacancy in a collegiate one; so Mr Henry Lundy, minister of the College Church, had now the right of being transported to the New Church. After long reasoning upon the subject, the Presbytery refused the desire of the petition. Against this judgment, Dean of Guild Macdougall, in name of the Town Council, and Dr Blair, in name of the Session, protested; in order to bring the matter, by appeal, before the Synod of Lothian and Tweeddale.

The Presbytery afterwards received a call to Mr Robert Walker, minister of Cramond, to be minister of Canongate, in room of Dr Lothian deceased, and appointed the moderation to take place upon Wednesday the 21st of July next.

The London Gazette, brought by this day's post, contains a proclamation by his Majesty, regarding the riots which lately happened in the city and county of Edinburgh, and for discovering, apprehending, and bringing to justice the persons who were concerned in attacking the distillery belonging to Messrs Haig and Co. at Canonmills, and in destroying the distillery at or near the village of Ford. His Majesty, by this proclation, is pleased to offer his most gracious pardon to any one or more of the offenders, who shall, on or before the 25th day of August next, discover any of their accomplices, so as they may be convicted; and likewise a reward of Fifty Pounds for every person so discovered and convicted.

Mr Dempster's speech, inserted in our last, is full of that good sense and true patriotism which has ever distinguished him. We see in this gentleman none of that false patriotism which exerts itself in making futile motions to embarrass Government, and impede public business, but every line of his speech breathes an ardent affection for the honour and glory of his country. Such has been the manly independent conduct of Mr Dempster ever since he came into Parliament; and his reward has been not that which the world bestows upon tyrants and trimmers, but the more satisfactory reward of an approving conscience, and of the esteem and veneration of all good men.

And, as the teinds of the last-mentioned lands belong to the Chapel Royal, and therefore are not saleable, no value is put upon them.

The lands all hold feu of the Crown, and entitle the proprietor to vote for a Member of Parliament. The lands of Airds are pleasantly situated at the meeting of the waters of Dee and Ken, have some wood on them, on which no value has been put; and when the lease of Upper and Middle Airds expires, which will be the case in six years, the rents thereof will rise very considerably, which is evident, as the tenant by a sub-tack at present draws double of the rent payable to the proprietor.

This is a purchase well calculated for any gentleman fond of country amusements, as the lands are situated in a part of the country which abounds with game; and where there are the best opportunities for fishing.

The articles of roup, title deeds, and rental of the estate, may be seen in the hands of Alexander Stevenson, Depute-Clerk of Session, or Hugh Corrie writer to the signet, Edinburgh.

THE LANDS OF EASTER GLINNS,

CONSISTING OF

I. The Forty-shilling Land of EASTER GLINNS, and Tiends, parsonage and vicarage thereof, lying in the parish of Balfour, and shire of Stirling as for principal, with the Lands of KAYSTON, lying in the said parish and shire, in real warrandice.—The free proven rent of Easter Glins, after deduction of all burdens, is 56 l. 16 s. 11 d. 8-12ths Sterling, and the upset price (being 23 years purchase, the value put thereon by the Lords) is 1307 l. 10 s. 4 d. 4-12ths Sterling.

This parcel holds of a subject superior, and the tiends thereof are valued and exhausted.

II. These parts of the Lands of BROICH, called Kearwood, Hatherston, (now Wrights Park) and Bullislan, together with the Tiends, parsonage, and vicarage of the same, lying in the parish of Kippen, barony of Bucklyvie, and shire of Stirling, together with a proportional part of the seat in the kirk of Kippen belonging to these lands, as for principal; and the rest of the said lands of Broich in warrandice. The free proven rent stock and tiend of this parcel is 29 l. 4 s. 9 d. 4-12ths Sterling, which at 23 years purchase, the value put thereon by the Lords, is 902 l. 9 s. 10 d. 8-12ths Sterling, the upset price. These lands also hold of a subject.

III. These two Mailings, part of the Lands of SHIRGARTON, with the Tiends and pertinents, called Powhill and Mureud, lying in the parish of Kippen, and shire of Perth. The free proven rent of these mailings, stock and tiend, is 27 l. 1 s. 2 d. 5-12ths Sterling, and the upset price, as fixed by the Lords at 23 years purchase, is 624 l. 13 s. 7 d. 7-12ths. They hold of a subject superior.

The proof of the rental of the above lands was taken in August 1780, when most of the tacks upon the estate were expired. The total free rent by that proof is 123 l. 4 s. 11 d. 5-12ths, since which the Lords factor has set the lands at the advanced rent of near 160 l. All the tacks (except one of about 8 l.) expire with the present crop; so that the purchaser may enter into the natural possession of the lands the first year of his purchase.

There is a genteel mansion-house with suitable offices on the premises, and the whole lands are known to be good grass and arable farms; and having the advantage of limestone upon the grounds, a proprietor might highly improve them at an easy expense.

The title deeds, rental, and articles of sale, may be seen at the office of Mr Alexander Ross, one of the depute clerks of session, and in the hands of William Tytler, writer to the signet; and the tenants will show the grounds. Particulars may also be learned from Mr John Burn writer in Stirling.

It lies compact, in the midst of a pleasant country, well situated for lime, either from Dumfries or from the lime-works at Clofeburn, at about six miles distance. There is a large orchard well stocked, and a great deal of wood on the ground, both old and young. The farm-houses are new built, and upon the best plans.

The whole of these lands hold of the Crown, except Caufewayend, which holds of a subject-superior blench; and there is an obligation in the feu-rights to enter the heirs of singular successors gratis.

The lands of Torrs alone will entitle the purchaser to a freehold qualification in the stewartry.

The free yearly rent of these lands, after deducting public burdens, is 152 l. 6 s. 4 d. but it is well known in the country, that they will admit of a considerable rise.

There is a good house, of four rooms on a floor, with garden and offices upon these lands.

The lands of Little Glen alone will entitle the purchaser to a freehold qualification in the stewartry, in consequence of an old retour; and the lands of Meikle Glen stand rated in the valuation-books at 165 l.

LOT II.

A DEBT of L. 80 Sterling, constituted by heritable bond and infestment, due to George Bell of Scalehill, the common debtor, by Archibald Douglas of Dornock, and the Balance of a personal Bond; for both of which Mr Bell is ranked as a creditor upon the estate of Dornock, extending together, at Candlemas 1784, with interest, to 196 l. 10 s. 5 d. Sterling, whereof full payment will be drawn.

The lands mentioned in Lot I. are at present out of tack (excepting a small part valued at 5 l. 15 s. yearly, set by the common debtor during the pendency of the ranking; as to which, a process of removing has been brought by the factor, and will probably be determined before the sale). There is no stipend payable out of these lands, nor any schoolmaster's salary. They consist of 160 acres or thereby, mostly dry arable land, pleasantly situated upon the banks of the water of Milk, within 200 or 300 yards of the great turnpike road from Gretna to Moffat, and may be improved at small expense, as they contain a very great quantity of shell-marle of the best quality, which can be easily raised, and is a scarce article in that part of the country.

Mungo Dobie, writer in Lockerby, the factor, will show the lands; and the title deeds, which are clear, with the articles of roup, may be seen in the hands of Mr George Kirkpatrick depute clerk of session, or John Syme writer to the signet, Edinburgh.
